SAMPLE OF THE GOD THAT KILLS

Introduction

I've had many interesting discussions with a variety of sources about God's killing that is throughout the Bible and especially in the Old Testament. Some examples of these discussions include but are not limited to...

An Atheist that insisted a core reason that he did not and would not serve a God who would extinguish the flame of life from those who would opt to reject His leadership within their lives. This was a rallying point that could not be abated within our discussions.

When I told a client of mine the title of this book that I was writing it went something like this. I'm writing a book called The God That Kills. Before I could breathe even one word further his response immediately flowed within his words: "yes, He does." In further dialog with this man, it was clear to me that he considered himself a Christian. With such diversity between paganism and Christianity, how could it be that on this one point both sides found themselves unified?

Within the concepts of Catholicism there is such teachings as a place called purgatory wherein, as I understand things, though not in-depth on this point, those who were not seriously evil people are sent in hopes that their souls can be purchased into Heaven. As I understand it this is called penance. So now we have three distinctly different groups attesting to the same conclusion, but we have only just begun on this matter.

I've meant many who hold the banner of Jehovah Witnesses close to their heart. One such man and I have been doing in-depth studies together which have been a blessing to my very soul for as long as we have had the opportunity to embrace God's Holy Word together. He too would agree with those stated.

In fact, I've met many people from a variety of different religious and non-religious positions and a diversity of comprehensions that rally as a unified whole on the very point that God kills his enemies. Be they Baptist, Methodist, Adventist or even Hindu the answer is the same.

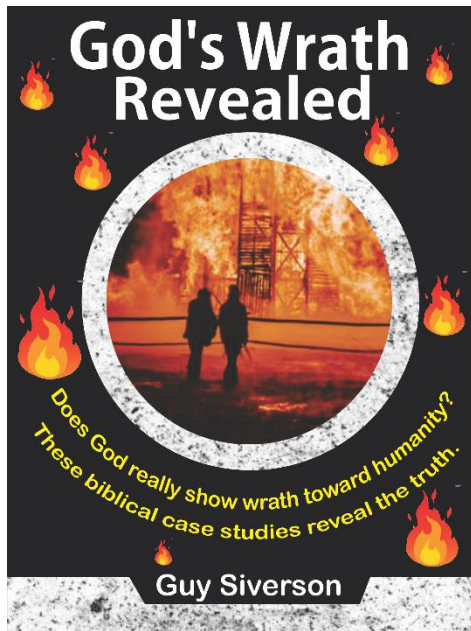

God kills.

It is the purpose of this book to take a deep investigative dive into this matter to see if we can uncover if what:

1. Atheist
2. Agnostics
3. Catholics
4. Adventists
5. Jehovah Witnesses
6. Hindu's

All agree upon as fact holds weight within what is unfolded from the pages of Genesis itself. To that end we will be using Scripture to understand Scripture as we take our journey forward.

What this book does do is unlock the reality of The God That Kills within a chapter-by-chapter investigation through the book of Genesis. Where this book falls short is in investigating all the other areas where we find God's wrath revealed within the Holy Word of God. That's why I've written this second work for you to enjoy.

Both works will be released as digital and audio files at the time of this writing and may progressively become available by other means as the future moves forward.

With that said it is now time to open the investigation of:

Adam & Eve (Gen 2-3)

Exposed – Unfolded Original

Okay, technically, at least during the report of this encounter nobody physically died. However, I'm including the details of this encounter in this section because what took place here got the whole ball rolling in a very bad direction.

God gave our original parents a commission.

Genesis 1:28 (KJV) And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

There was only one important thing they were never to do.

Genesis 2:17 (KJV) But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

Everything else was:

Genesis 2:16 (KJV) And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

Free game.

Everything seemed to be going along fine until:

Genesis 3:1 (KJV) Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

The serpent showed up.

Adam and Eve would have been well advised to stay away from this crafty fellow, but they did not. Instead, they, or more precisely she, started speaking to the serpent.

Genesis 3:2-3(KJV)

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

Though her speech was littered with confusion. A fact that Satan was more than ready and willing to take advantage of.

Genesis 3:4-5 (KJV)

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

If God was going to hold back on you something, wouldn't you want to know what it is?

Eve certainly did. Especially since it involved knowing good.

What Eve was missing was a very critical point.

Genesis 1:31 (KJV) And God saw everything that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

She already knew what very good was.

The knowledge that she lacked was that of evil.

The Satan serpent knew this and distorted the truth of the reality as he so often does.

What was the result?

Genesis 3:6 (KJV) And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat.

Based on her human finite logical reasoning Eve concluded that there was no reason not to eat and so she did. However, that is just half the story.

When Adam came to realize the horrors of what Eve had done, he was left with a choice.

Follow Eve's lead into disobedience or allow whatever will happen to her to happen to her alone.

At this point it should be noted what Adam's response was when he saw Eve for the first time.

Genesis 2:23 (KJV) And Adam said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

Utter and complete amazement.

But now Adam's world was crashing down around him.

Thus, Adam willfully and deliberately chose to disobey while Eve was tricked into the same. Therefore, Scripture speaks about Adam's transgression differently than Eve's.

Romans 5:14 (KJV) Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

Thus because of the deliberate disobedience of Adam and the beguilement of Eve death reigned and reigns in humanity to this very day.

Actions – Blame Game

Above we unlocked the truth of how Adam and Eve became the first humans to experience the effects of death. Imagine what it would have looked like to watch the first leaf die.

Or the first time they heard familiar footsteps in the garden.

Genesis 3:8 (KJV) And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden.

What used to be a delight now seemed more like a death sentence.

Adam and Eve used to speak to the Father and Son face to face but now things have changed.

Genesis 3:9 (KJV) And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?

The Godhead did not ask this because they had lost their creation.

No.

The reason this question was asked was an attempt to reach into the heart of Adam and pull forward the truth within. Unfortunately, due to Adam's new agenda doing this would be extremely difficult.

Genesis 3:10 (KJV) And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.

Where peace once existed fear now reigned.

Where fellowship had been found at separation now reigned supreme.

Adam and Eve were now exposed to the core and did everything they could to hide from their Creator.

They were then called to account for their actions by their Creator.

Genesis 3:11 (KJV) And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?

To which Adam launches into his explanation:

Genesis 3:12 (KJV) And the man said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

As does the woman that Adam once treasured.

Genesis 3:13 (KJV) And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

We then have the reality of their disobedience unfolded in broad daylight.

First for Adam.

Genesis 3:14-15 (KJV)

14 And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

15 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

And then for Eve.

Genesis 3:16 (KJV) Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

As you reflectively read more into this story of Adam and Eve's transgressions against God many things can be uncovered. However, I believe we have brought forward enough of the narrative to unlock the truth about the God that kills based on what has been shared.
